Observations...

by the Editor

Old man winter certainly played a trick on us this week. Went to bed Wednesday night with the temperature in the upper sixties and woke up Thursday morning with flurries of snow falling. Weather of this type is pretty rough on us. Just not prepared for it, but when we read of the temperature being 40 degrees below in certain sections of Wisconsin we just shiver at the thought.

It is pretty cold right now, but we surmise as August approaches things will be growing pretty hot. This is election year, and your editor has broken the ice with a political announcement of his candidacy for the office of Supervisor for Beat 5. From what we hear, the crop of candidates for the various offices in this year's primary will be quite bountiful, and since many of the boys appear to be a little bashful about announcing we thought we would start the ball rolling. Just drumming up a bit of business. Advertising is the way we make our living... and the best way for the candidates to tell the folks they are running is through the columns of the Echo, the newspaper with a real circulation in Hancock County.

Game Warden Randolph Bourgeois called in to tell us that he has received several complaints about youngsters, and even grown ups, shooting rifles at random. Some time back we mentioned this in our column, and suggested that parents put a stop to it. Mr. Bourgeois says that he is definitely going to enforce the statute which prohibits the shooting of rifles, and that he is going to ask the court to enforce a jail term on those convicted. We think he is absolutely right. This is one of the most dangerous practices we know of. Some unsuspecting person is going to be killed, and some bull headed parents are then going to try and tell folks how sorry they are that their youngster killed some child, or a much needed father or mother. We think it is time for the other officers to join with Warden Bourgeois and stop this practice.

The bingo game for the benefit of the March of Dimes, which was to be held at the Knights of Columbus Home Thursday has been postponed until next Thursday night. The drive has been extended for a few more days. Funds have been a bit slow coming in, and Mrs. Mae Tudury, County Chairman, is asking everyone to hurry along their contributions for this worthy cause.

Tuesday is Mardi Gras, and the Bay St. Louis Parent Teachers Association is again sponsoring the Carnival Parade. From what we hear, it will outdo the one of last year. The P. T. A. is to be congratulated for their efforts. They are doing a great job for Bay St. Louis. It has put a renewed spirit into the carnival in Bay St. Louis. Many people now remain here on that day instead of going to other places, and many others from the outlying sections of the county come to town to see the Bay St. Louis parade. It shows just what a little leadership and cooperation will do.

Hayden Campbell, Editor of the Conservation News, Jackson, Mississippi, and a member of the Mississippi Legislature, representing Hinds County, was in Bay St. Louis yesterday, calling on some of his friends in the interest of his candidacy for the office of Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Campbell is a very influential member of the Legislature. It was he who carried on a one man investigation of the Whitfield Mental Hospital and was instrumental in the cleanup and reorganization of this hospital, which has now been recognized by the American College of Surgeons.

He sponsored, as a private citizen and later as a member of the Legislature, necessary legislation for the establishment of the University of Mississippi Medical School at Jackson, a project which will cost $8,500,000.00, of which the state appropriated $4,000,000.00, the federal government $3,000,000.00 and Hinds County $1,500,000.00, to give to Mississippi its first Medical School.

He is presently carrying on an active campaign for the office he seeks, and says that he has already visited 53 counties.

A.G. Favre Announces Candidacy For Office of Supervisor, Beat Five

Below is the announcement of A. G. Favre, Editor of the Sea Coast Echo, who is a candidate for the office of Supervisor of Beat Five, Hancock County, in the Democratic Primary Election to be held in August 1951.

TO THE VOTERS OF BEAT FIVE,
HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

In the Democratic Primary election to be held in August of this year, you will be called upon once again to select nominees to fill the respective offices in your State and County governments.

After mature consideration, I have reached a decision to become a candidate for the office of Supervisor, Beat 5, Hancock County. The office of Supervisor is most important. The control of the affairs of the county rests there. Roads, bridges, seawall, and, in fact, all the problems which tend to improve or better your county are the responsibility of the Supervisors.

The shore line of Hancock County is one of our life lines. It is this which has attracted many people to come and live with us - people who earn their money elsewhere and spend it here. It is one of the biggest payrolls we have in the county. The shore line is protected by the seawall and beach road, and facing this roadway is some of the most valuable property in the county; it is incumbent upon us to salvage and rebuild this beach, to encourage these people to stay with us and to bring more into our midst.

With the beach development now in progress across the Bay from us in Harrison County, we must make some effort to offer something to our visitors if we are to follow the march of progress of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We must develop our most natural resource, OUR BEACH. We can have a wonderful vacationland if we will only exercise some concerted effort and sound judgment. A project of this type will pay handsome dividends in increased property values and increased business.

In addition to the Beach, we have much property throughout the beat that can be made most valuable with good roads which will allow the residents of the various sections of the beat easy access to Bay St. Louis and Waveland, their trading centers. This beat can be built into a metropolitan area.

How can this be done? Well let's see. The income for road maintenance allocated to this beat for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1950, amounted to $25,633.00. There are approximately 25 miles of dirt or unsurfaced roads in Beat 5. (This does include roads in subdivisions which have not been declared public roads.) With this amount of money, and if we are fortunate enough to again receive from the state the same amount of funds in the next four years as we have in the past, there would be a total in excess of $120,000.00 available for the four year period.

I propose, if elected, to use the major portion of these funds for the rebuilding and surfacing of these roads, and I firmly believe that practically every mile of road can be rebuilt and surfaced within four years. I propose also, if elected, to build a road connecting Clermont Harbor with Highway 90, in order to give the residents of Clermont Harbor a direct route to the highway.

The seawall and beach road is a major problem and unless some effort is made, and without much delay, we will not have a beach road. It would probably scare the wits out of the average person riding over this roadway if they knew its actual condition. In many spots there is nothing supporting the slabs of concrete, but the reinforcement which ties it into the seawall. There are sections, where the fill has eroded, which would permit a person to walk under it.

To repair the roadway is a must. Another must is to rebuild the sections of the wall destroyed in the September 1947 hurricane. Again, how? The tax levy for seawall purpose this year will yield approximately $12,000.00. The gasoline tax for the past year amounted to $186,601.12; of this amount $68,973.52 was allocated to Roads and Bridges, Road and Bridges Bonds, etc., and the balance, totaling $117,627.60, was deposited to the Road protection Bond fund for the payment of Seawall bonds. The bond and interest payment for 1950 amounted to $115,947.00. The bond and interest payments for 1951 will be $105,805.00; 1952, $105,012.50; 1953, $107,120.00; 1954, $108,005.00; and 1955, $107,790.00. If the gasoline tax returns continue as at present, (The gasoline tax returns for the past year showed an increase of approximately $21,000.00 over the previous year.) there should be a substantial over plus in the road protection bond fund each year, which, under the law, can only be used for seawall purposes. Based on the present figures this should amount to more than $10,000.00 per year.

A lack of arms doesn't stop A. M. Semrau. Semrau, who was passing through Bay St. Louis, for Florida, lost both of his arms 40 years ago. One had to be amputated when he was wounded with a shot gun, and the other one was lost in a corn shredder six years later. He left Ortonville, Minnesota, January 29 with no definite destination, and when he arrived in Bay St. Louis, he had already traveled through Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, and was headed for Florida. He "just likes to travel," and he has shown that the loss of both arms can't keep a good man down.

Norman Carnovale 18, Dies of Injuries

Norman Carnovale, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carnovale of Biloxi, died Thursday afternoon, February 1, 2:00 o'clock at the Foundation hospital, New Orleans, as the result of injuries received in an accident on Highway 90 that morning.

Carnovale, who was returning to Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge where he was a student in the school of music, had pulled his car to the shoulder of the road, about six miles west of Bay St. Louis, to fix a flat tire. As he got out of the car, which, according to authorities was about six feet from the main highway, another automobile driven by Henry Darsey of Pearlington, came along and hit him. Darsey did not stop, but continued on at a rapid rate of speed.

Sheriff B. D. Johnson, investigating officer, was given the license number of the hit and run driver, and started a search for the negro who is a native of New Orleans. Authorities in New Orleans are continuing the search.

The boy, who was traveling with his twin brother, Norbert, suffered injuries to the head, severe injuries to the right hand, and broken legs, with possible internal injuries. He was taken to Kings Daughters hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to the New Orleans hospital where he died shortly upon arrival.

The twins were both graduated from St. Stanislaus college in the class of 1950; they were active members of the band and orchestra at this institution. Norman was a member of the football squad.

At this writing, funeral arrangements were not known.

Snyder, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Bank, the Comptroller of the Currency and Chairman Maple T. Harl and the staff of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Each member of Coast Electric is being invited to donate a shrub, plant, tree, etc., and the plan is to identify this planting with a permanent tag, there, by making the landscaping a group endeavor, of, by and for Coast Electric, and the ensuing planned planting, not only an inspiration to others, but a source of pride to the donors.

Coast Electric belongs to its members, and so each member is being given the opportunity to bring one or more plants to the building at 10:00 a. m., February 8, and see them planted correctly by a horticulturist. Should a member fail to have a way of getting the plants or trees to Bay St. Louis, the line-man in his area will be glad to bring them in, in advance of the planting date, if he is notified.

SUGGESTED PLANTS
The following shrubs and trees are some suggested in the plans: Yucca, Krume azaleas, Japanese Barberry, Yucca, Pyracantha (red), Wax Myrtle, Scrub Palmetto, Curved Palm, Sumac, Vinca, Poinsettias, Dogwood, Indian Coral Berry, Red Bud, Oleander, Yellow Jasmine, Grape Myrtle, Hydrangea, Live Oak, Magnolia, Woodbine, Mountain Laurel and Grand Daddy Greybeard (Fringe Tree).

Should anyone have plants that are not listed, there will be plenty of room for them, and they are all wanted.

DIRECTIONS FOR MOVING
The horticulturist gives the following directions for moving a plant: Try to keep in tact as many of the fine top roots and as much of the tap root (if there is one). Ball wrap with burlap or sack. Keep damp and in the shade until planting time. Dig a hole larger than the root system, fill half full of water, place the plant and fill in with loose dirt so that no air pockets are left.

With this program of beautification completed, Coast Electric's grounds will be one of the beauty spots of the state; schools and clubs will have a place to study landscaping and home owners can see how economical. ly their grounds can be beautified by using the native plants with which South Mississippi is so generously endowed.

"He that planteth a tree is a servant of God. He provideth a kindness for many generations. And faces he hath not seen shall bless him."

—Van Dyke.

"Strutting Sid" Rules The Roost

The Mississippi State Highway Commission by a two to one vote has decided to locate the "colossal monument to the political indifference" which is supposed to be built across the Bay of St. Louis, at the north end of town, so they say, about 2000 feet north of the present bridge.

"Strutting" Sid Roebuck, Chairman of the commission and Roy C. Adams, the member from the Northern District voted for the new location, and John Smith, Southern District Commissioner voted for the present location. "Strutting" Sid, told the committee of business men from Bay St. Louis, and Attorney R. W. Thompson, of Gulfport, who represented them, that "we have to think about the majority of the people we serve . . . frankly I don't think the movement of the bridge will hurt your business as much as you think." Since when has Sid become so interested in the majority of the people of this area. He has been a member of the commission for many years, and he should have known the deplorable condition the Bay St. Louis bridge was in, and if he had been interested in the majority of the people he served, he would have made available funds from the millions appropriated by the Legislature for roads and bridges, to build the Bay St. Louis Bridge, and not have us saddled with a toll bridge. To add to the injury, he together with the other northern commissioner voted to place the bridge, to which they are not contributing one red penny, where the great majority of the people of this section do not want it. Sure Sidney, you are serving the majority. What majority?

The people at the north end of town do not want the bridge located there. It will destroy much valuable residential property, and we are certain the fight to locate it there has only started. It may be that another session of the Legislature will convene before it gets underway, and perhaps we may get some relief.

To build the bridge at the northern location it will be necessary that there be an elevation of 9 or 10 feet at the Beach Road, and in order to come off of the bridge, or to get on it at the Beach, a clover leaf will have to be built. Just how much property will have to be utilized to take care of this?

The action of the Highway Commission is repulsive to say the least, and the argument of congestion with a 100 foot right of way on Ulman Avenue is another joker. The need which now appears is 200 feet. Coming off of a 56 foot bridge, into the super colossal highway through the city of Bay St. Louis, and thence into a 22 foot highway is another brilliant idea of Sid Roebuck and his corps of so-called great engineers, for whom it was necessary to hire outside engineers to assist at a cost of many thousands of dollars.

So it is, if we get a bridge it will be placed where a great majority of the people don't want it, by the action of a highway commission that don't give a hooters damn what happens to this section of the state. They have proved this by their actions heretofore.

Well the fight has probably only begun.

Common Sense and Confusion

It can be said without fear of contradiction that nothing is clearer than today's confusion.

It has always been like that in the wake of wars. Conflicts among men are emotional upheavels that affect their thinking and their behavior. Wars disturb the normal course of human events—they are volcanic.

Caught in the crux of what men call national emergencies and world crises, the individual often wonders what will happen to him next and just where he fits into the complicated scheme of things.

For a long time now we have been emphasizing, through these printed messages, that production and economy would solve many of our personal problems. To work a little harder and save a little more has always been a sound policy for the prosperity and security of the individual. And government is most secure when it lives within its means, pays its obligations and puts something by for evil times.

In this national emergency we need even more than we need in normal times increased production and thrift to provide the weapons, the food and the money to fortify ourselves against possible attack.

The forces of inflation could undermine the economy of a country already saddled with unprecedented financial burdens. We are warned not to hoard essentials. The sinews of war come first. If we must hoard something, it should be money. Out of circulation money will not feed the flames of inflation, and it will be there for you when you need it.

It would seem just common sense to pay one's bills promptly, keep out of debt and salt something down for the uncertainties of tomorrow.

Use the comprehensive services of your bank freely—its commercial, savings and trust facilities can help you. Strive and save. There is no cure like industry and thrift for a sick economy—no antidote for confusion as effective as common sense.

Why SPEED to DESTRUCTION

MISSISSIPPI SAFETY COUNCIL

A. S. Windham, Administrative Assistant, Mississippi Highway Patrol and Executive Director of the Mississippi Safety Council, stated today, "We have just completed making a safety film here in Mississippi, showing the many violations that are committed on our highways by speeders and drinking drivers."

The film was produced by Public Safety Pictures of Dallas, Texas, and paid for by the following firms, who are interested in reducing traffic accidents.

1. Blue Ribbon Creamery, Jackson.
2. Mississippi Power & Light Company, Jackson.
3. Petroleum Transporters, of Jackson.
4. Baldwin Funeral Home, Home, Jackson.
5. Delta Truck Lines, Jackson.
6. Southland Oil Company, Jackson.
7. Dixie Highway Express, Meridian.
8. L. L. Majure Transport, Co., Meridian.
9. Highway Express, Memphis, Tenn.
10. Pontiac Division, General Motors and Madison Auto Sales, Jackson.
11. M. T. Reed Construction Co., Jackson.

The film portrays a speeding and a drinking driver, with many violations committed, and ending with a death scene, where the two cars collide, killing the speeder, his wife and boy. The drunk is not killed, which is usually the case. He is sentenced by the Judge for the maximum penalty.

All characters in the picture are Mississippi people, with the exception of the drunk, who is a professional actor. Characters include Col. T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety; A. S. Windham, Administrative Assistant, L. E. Birdsong, Administrative Assistant, Patrolmen J. L. May, R. E. Burton, Gwin Cole, Ray Williams. Bill McKeithen is the speeder, Mrs. Modelle Miller of Jackson is his wife and Albert Sidney Windham, son of Captain Windham, plays the part of the little boy.

All highway scenes were made on the Natchez Trace, North of Jackson, through the courtesy of The National Park Service.

Says Windham further, "We have twenty prints of this film for showing in theatres and hope to have this picture shown in every theatre in Mississippi during the next few months. We also have the film in 16 mm. which is available on loan to schools and civic clubs. We feel confident the showing of this picture through Mississippi will do much toward bringing about a reduction in traffic accidents on the streets and highways of Mississippi."

"1950 was the worst year since 1946 for traffic accidents with 473 killed, 14,000 injured and property damage of twenty million dollars. For 22 days in January 1951, 33 people were killed, compared to 27 for the

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Cotton Yields More On Good Land

By HOWARD SIMMONS

It seems that most Mississippi cotton growers are counting largely on a high yield per acre, instead of planting a greatly increased acreage, to produce the 2,000,000 bales which is Mississippi's share of the 1951 defense production effort.

More money is made from cotton when it is planted on land best suited to it, according to farmers who won the 1950 Mississippi Five-Acre Cotton Contest. On many farms this leaves considerable other acreage which is most profitable developed as pasture or timber in a balanced plan.

Two to three bales per acre yields were demonstrated by several farmers in most cotton growing parts of the state during 1950, although this was the year of the heaviest boll weevil infestation on record and the most rain for the first nine months for 38 years. A definite poisoning program and use of enough fertilizer were secrets of success followed by the 1950 cotton contest winners.

Much planting seed is of low germination this year, and all should be tested. If germination is found to be as low as 50 percent, plant twice as much seed as usual to get a good stand.

Treatment to control seed-borne diseases will also help get a good stand, as well as giving protection later on.

Insecticide supplies are expected to be short in 1951, so buy now 50 pounds per acre of dust or the equivalent in spray. This is enough for two trips and four early weevil applications, and for two late season protective treatments.

Buy and store fertilizer, too, if at all possible. Early poisoning is urged this year with so much seed of low germination. This is to kill thiaps, which weaken young seedlings so that they are most subject to disease.

The county agent has the list of insecticides recommended this entire month of January 1951. We must do something to reduce the terrible amount of death and destruction on our streets and highways. Will you help?

The Mississippi Safety Council and the Highway Patrol are co-sponsors of this film and hope everyone will go to see it. We are appreciative of the firms who made the film possible."

PRUNING ORNAMENTALS

Prune trees and shrubs by the middle of February. Remove wood which has clearly been damaged by low temperature, and twigs or branches split or cracked by the weight of ice.

Use clean, smooth cuts in removing a branch. Then protect the wound by painting with a non-toxic paint or linseed oil.

For large limbs, make the cut as near the main trunk as possible.

If not killed by cold, shrubs such as crepe myrtle, spirea and althea will bloom all summer after pruning now. Hybrid tea roses in south and central Mississippi should be pruned before February 15, or about March 1 in North Mississippi.

To make a good pasture takes rich land or plenty of fertilizers. Pastures needing fertilizer can be top dressed this month with 500 to 600 pounds of a good mixture. On clover, mixtures such as 0.14-14 or 0.14-10 are good.

Good fences are also part of good pastures. There isn't too much time now before crops season to repair all fences or build cross fences for all alternate grazing.

Buy seed early, as it may become scarce. Such supplemental grazing will be needed in the summer by most livestock, and especially by dairy cows.

22 Loan Students Enter Med School

Twenty-two State medical education loan recipients entered the University of Mississippi School of Medicine January 29. These students were recently approved by the State Medical Education Board for such loans, purpose of which is to obtain more doctors for the rural areas by assisting deserving young people of this State to meet the costs of medical education.

This group brings the total number of students now receiving medical education loans at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine to 86. The remainder of the 219 loan recipients now attending school are enrolled in 23 other medical schools throughout the United States.

The students who entered the State's two-year medical school at Oxford are residents of 17 communities in 15 counties. They have completed premedical courses at the following Mississippi colleges: University of Mississippi, Mississippi State, Mississippi College, Millsaps. Eleven of them are veterans of World War II.

Names and home addresses of this group here, follow: James Wayne Allison, Jr., Jackson; Donald Ray Barry, Picayune; James E. Booth, Route 1, Mathiston; Lawrence H. Brisco, Tupelo; Samuel F. Carr, Leland; James T. Champion, Jackson; Alton Bernard Cobb, Camden; James Muri Dabbs, Route 1, Shannon; Richard T. Furr, Aberdeen; James A. Gibson, Mendenhall; Patrick H. Gill, Jr., Puckett; Gussie Rainer Higgins, Jackson; Frank L. Leggett, Route 3, Brookhaven; Alvie O. McCully, Tupelo; Joseph Crawford McGee, Jr., Hattiesburg; Shelby W. Bobison, Route 3, Tupelo; Henry Deck Stone, Lambert; Samuel C. Woolvin, II, Meridian.

All State medical education loan recipients sign contracts with the State of Mississippi in which they agree to practice in approved rural areas upon completion of training. They may select location of practice within provisions of the law.

The program was established in May, 1946.

Eligible Students Enlist In Service of Own Choice

State Director of Selective Service, Mississippi, Colonel John W. Patton, Jr., announces that information has been received to the effect that the college students who had been ordered for pre-induction physical and for induction, and postponed until the end of the academic year, would be allowed to enlist in the service of their choice to the extent of available openings in the respective services, during the last month of their academic year.

This policy is designed to implement the intent of Congress to encourage students to continue college to the end of their academic year and, at the same time, preserve their right to indicate the service in which they wish to serve.

The release announcing the authority to reopen such cases and thus reinstate the right to enlist at that time emphasized that no change in the obligation of students to serve was contemplated. It further pointed out that procedures for accomplishing reopening of classifications would be announced later.

T. B. Sellers Jr., of Houston, Texas, spent the past weekend here with his parents.

A. A. Scafide Jr., (Toby) is at home from Southeastern Louisiana College for the mid term holidays.

BANKERS Know...

trees are a good investment

For years bankers have regarded land as a potential farm for growing produce. Today, more and more bankers are realizing that some land is better for growing trees as a crop. Tree growing and forest fire prevention are being encouraged by the American Bankers Association.

Growing trees, either as a full-time project or as a means to supplement farm income, is good business. Growing trees can be a sound investment.

Trees, like any other crop, need protection. Fire is one of their greatest enemies. You can help protect our investment in growing trees by keeping fire out of our woods.

Farmers own more forest land than any other single group of Americans.

Logging It On TV

By JAY METZ

The first thing that comes to mind for discussion this week is the manner in which WDSU-TV presents their morning and mid-day news. Most of the time the tape which contains the news runs across the bottom of the screen, and frequently the lower portions of the letters are invisible. We had our set adjusted to compensate for this difficulty but now again, on occasions, the news drops down too low to view it properly. Maybe the fault still rests within our set—or maybe the station is at fault by aiming their camera or projector too high.

The solution to the problem is really an easy one and can be readily handled by the station. Run the tape up through the middle of the picture area—as they do once in a while—and fit the ad above and below the tape. On the same subject, the news tape is operated most erratically. It moves steadily for a while, then it jerks then it stops, then it goes too fast, and then it goes just right for a while. This cycle is repeated, ad nauseum. The station must be using a small boy to pull the tape through the slot. If they use a machine, it needs repairing, if they use a man, he needs replacement.

In the afternoon, when we aren't out working in the yard, we enjoy the fifteen minute N. O. Cookbook program with Amanda Lee and Woody Leifer. Amanda is the excellent cook who took over following the death of the famous Len Richards. She does a fine job of both cooking and talking but is continually interrupted by Leifer. On a recent program Woody questioned an ingredient Amanda was putting into her favorite barbecue sauce. She didn't get mad but a little later in the program she had her opening and politely asked him if he didn't want to take over the cooking. If I were Amanda I'd have a cleaver handy and every time he got in my way I'd catch a finger or two. I suggest he stay back out of the picture and do his talking—if he must—from there. Viewed from here, the guy just keeps getting in the way.

Last Monday we watched Kukla, Fran and Ollie present their Christmas Day program. Let's see, that would be four weeks late. Some time last week we saw their Christmas Eve program. We like the new 5:30 schedule, too. Kukla, Ollie and the others are not like the usual on-the-string puppets—these people sort of grow on you. The first few times I watched I couldn't see why people around here all stopped doing other things to watch K. F. and O. The program has some fairly good skits, is snappy running, and Burt Tillson the "voice" and manipulator of all the personalities is as clever as they come. He gives all his characters a good voice in proper character, with none of them having that horrible raspiness that is found on many other puppet shows. Anyway, we like Fran Allison who, by the way, is that grand old talkative Aunt Fanny on Don McNeill's program. Another reason we like this thirty minute program is that the commercials are short, sweet and far between.

Robert B. Windish has returned to his home in Zanesville, Ohio after a weeks visit here to his brother-in-law and sister, Lt. and Mrs. R. K. Brennan.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damillot, 3414 E. 8th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damillot found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Nicotin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damillot's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at night. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at night. Thanks to HADACOL I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

Pass Blood Quota Short By 136 Pints

Only fifty-nine pints of blood were collected of a goal of 190 when the Red Cross bloodmobile stopped in Pass Christian last week.

Roy Staton, chapter chairman for the Red Cross blood program announced that although the figure was low, it was better than the previous visit of the bloodmobile to Pass Christian. It indicated a good deal more interest in the important life-saving program.

Only three persons were rejected, and of those accepted for donations, three were colored.

Col. Roy N. Hagerty was local director for Pass Christian; and Dr. C. D. Taylor Jr., Pass Christian, relieved the regular Red Cross physician at noon in order that donations might continue through the lunch hour.

The blood was returned to the blood bank at Mobile, Alabama, for processing and shipment both to the Korean war front and to Gulfport Memorial hospital for the emergency needs of city and county patients.

The bloodmobile will visit Gulfport February 20, and its goal will again be 190 pints.

Enlistments in the Air Force are no longer frozen in Mississippi, Lt. Col. Herbert P. McGehee, recruiting officer for Mississippi Military District said Sunday.

"During January, because of the tremendous number of Air Force enlistments, we had to stop taking men for a while but now, we've more room and Mississippi is per-

Army WAC and WAF enlistments are also still being accepted, Col. McGehee said.

Men with prior service enlisting in the Air Force are sent to Keesler Air Force Base and the non-prior servicemen are being sent to Lackland.

J. Chase Reviews Own Book Friday

"Frenchmen Desire Good Children," was brought to life by its author, John Chase last Friday afternoon at the Youth Center.

Under the sponsorship of the parents club of Christ Church Parish School, Mr. Chase gave a witty and interesting talk on his book using charts to point out places of interest in New Orleans and why and how so many of the streets bear such unusual names.

The author has won great renown as editorial cartoonist for the New Orleans States.

It is clear that Mr. Chase has made an intensive study of his subject. Yet, his personality colored the material so that his audience absorbed a great deal of historical knowledge painlessly.

This is the third of a series of six reviews by well-known authors being presented this year by the Parents Club of Christ Church Parish School.

Following the review, Mrs. Sam Whitfield, Mrs. Paul Tourne, Mrs. William Watts and Mrs. John Griffin were hostesses at the reception honoring Mr. Chase. There were approximately 90 present.

It's Time To Plant Spring Gardens

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

It is time to plant your spring vegetable garden. Plant hardy or semi-hardy plants as cabbage, carrots, lettuce, turnips. Irish potatoes, English peas, onions, mustard and beets this month for early spring production.

Orchards too come in for some work during February. It is the time to prune-up, clean-up and spray-up your home orchard. If your grape vines have not already been pruned, prune them now. Spray all fruit trees with 1 part oil emulsion to 20 parts of water to control scale.

Fertilize and mulch strawberries. Make an application of fertilizer as 6-8-4, before mulching plants. Apply 4 to 6 pounds to 100 feet of row when plants are dry. This will prevent burning the plants.

Place pine straw or other mulching material around the plants, completely covering the ground. This protects the fruit from dirt and prevents the growth of grass and weeds which take up moisture and plant food needed by the berries.

February is the planting month for shrubs, roses and trees. Among the flowers to be planted in open beds this month are Balsam, Candy Tuft, Canterbury Bells, Coropis, Hollyhocks, Dahlia, Daisy, Verbena and Veronica.

Plant sweetpeas now. Cover the seed with about 1 inch of soil in a trench 6 to 8 inches deep; pull soil around plants as they grow.

KITCHEN NOTES

"Meats for Thrifty Meals", which includes recipes for more than 100 tasty meals for budget-minded cooks is available free in single copies. Write to Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. While most cooks can manage a quality steak, only an artist can make a tasty hash or stew. A good cook book may help produce that artist.

Two chickens can be cheaper than one. Poultry specialists say that buying 2 fryers for roasting is a better buy than one roaster. The fryers not only cost less but they are usually enough to give special appetite and eye appeal. Fryers are expected to be in abundance this month and at a price that will appeal to the housewife.
